ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY:

The Bertha Gold Jewish Seniors Residence, often referred to as the Seniors Apartments, opened in 1979 as the Jewish Community Apartments under the management of the Calgary Jewish Senior Citizens Apartments [Residence] Society. The Residence was renamed in 2012 to honour the Society's founding and long-time chair, Bertha Gold. Management of the building, which is connected by a breezeway to the Calgary Jewish Community Centre (JCC), is conducted by the Society under the terms of an agreement between the Province, the JCC and Jewish Family Services Calgary (JFSC), and is overseen by a volunteer Board of Directors.

The Bertha Gold offers subsidized rent-geared-to-income bachelor and one-bedroom suites to eligible seniors of all backgrounds and nationalities, and has often had an active tenant board. The tenant population has historically included a significant percentage of Russian immigrants, largely due to the Residence's proximity to, and provision of, supportive community programs and services. Regular activities include exercise and ESL classes, guest speakers, excursions within Calgary and to the surrounding area, pickup and delivery of Calgary Public Library material, podiatry care, Home Care support and a Senior's Outreach worker. Through its first 20 years, the Residence had a formal tenant's group called the Pump Hill Apartments Tenants' Association.
